Dorsey Trailers On Strike

Robert Earl Williams, president Local 1769, International Association Machinists, is shown discussing picket plans with striking members of the local union during a meeting held in the Elba High School auditorium Saturday night. The strike vote was taken in a meeting held in the Elba High School auditorium Saturday morning. Neil Adkison, who is district representative for the Local told this newspaper Monday, "We are on strike, but we would rather not discuss it in detail because we feel strikes are settled around the bargaining table and not downtown on the square or in the harbor shops."

A prepared statement released by Dorsey Trailers on Monday confirmed the strike and stated that limited production would continue at the plant.

The statement read:

Dorsey Trailers, Inc., a subsidiary of The Dorsey Corporation, today announced that production and maintenance employees of Dorsey Trailers went on strike at the company's Elba, Alabama, plant on November 2, 1981. The strike followed expiration of the collective bargaining contract with Machinist Local 1769 on October 31. Negotiations for these weeks prior to the expiration date failed to produce a new contract. The company normally employs about 630 workers at the Elba plant.

Company officials intend to continue limited production at the Elba plant. Production will also continue at the company's plants in Northumberland, Pennsylvania; Edgerton, Wisconsin; Griffin, Georgia and Montgomery, Alabama.

State Legislature Back In Session To Discuss Gas Windfall Money

The third special session of the Alabama legislature in 1981 began on Tuesday, November 3, and the sole matter on the agenda was the determination of the final distribution of Alabama's one-time oil windfall bonus. In a letter to newspapers across the state, Governor Fob James stated, "I believe that the money 100 percent in the public interest, we must insure that three conditions are fully met:

(1) Preserve the principal for future generations to use;

(2) Make the money received by the public by leveraging principal and buying capital assets that will be used for generations to come and which no politician can ever take away; and

(3) Insure that one-third of the windfall bonus is used to enlarge or enrich the operating costs of government with the exception of prisons, where we must have additional capacity."

At present Governor James' plan had opposition from a bill sponsored by Sen. Sonny Callahan of Mobile and introduced by Rep. Eric Cates of Greenville.

The James plan would invest $460 million, the $449 million in oil windfall plus $11 million in accrued interest, in 20-year treasury bonds issues a $507 million loan to be sold to finance construction of bridges, highways, housing and educational facilities. The $507 million would be added with an estimated $150 million in interest brought about by the money being invested in local banks and drawn out over a five-year period to allow a total of $657 million to be used in the capital expenditures program.

The James package would spend the money as follows:

$300 million for highways and bridges;
$150 million for public education ($75 million to kindergarten through 12th grades); per student ratio, $22 million going to junior and senior colleges; $8 million for vocational center funds for technical schools and $45 million to be dispersed to schools on the basis of need;

$65 million to both prisons and mental health institutions;
$50 million for the state docks at Mobile;

$12 million for renovation of the Capitol building;
$10 million for a new Highway Department building;

$6 million for the Department of Youth Services;
$2 million improvements to the prison;

$7 million to the Department of Conservation for preservation of land, public parks and oyster cultivation;

$400,000 to the Alabama Educational Television Commission.

Gov. Fob James

A portion of Governor James' plan of particular local interest was the $150 million earmarked for education. The first $75 million is specific, based on daily attendance, while the second $75 million go to schools that the governor calls critical needs. The needs would be outlined in a seven-part questionnaire sent to all 127 school systems in the state, asking the superintendents to--

6. List the number of temporary classrooms in use, and
7. Describe the project needed the most and how much local money would be available to spend on the project according to figures based on attendance reports for the first quarter of the present school year; allocations to schools would be as follows:

Coffee County - $21,000
Cullman County - $392,500
Crenshaw County - $292,500
Enterprise City - $532,500 and Elba City - $150,000.

The plan introduced by Rep. Cates would allocate the first $100 million equally to all the 67 counties, with the remainder to be distributed on the basis of population, while the Callahan plan focused in on original purpose, the preservation of the principal. All three plans for disposing of the oil money were introduced Tuesday, while James' plan was to be in line for consideration by Money committees on Wednesday.

Board Discusses Emergency Room Problems

The Elba Hospital Board met Wednesday, October 28, at the hospital with all members present. Main order of business was a report by Hospital Administrator Jim Nichols on the status of the hospital and nursing home employees. Nichols said all was in order with the work and the temporary move of the emergency room entrance to the front of the hospital was working out okay. Nichols said that some of the patients' payments on the construction were referred to board attorney Merrill Shirley for clarification. Nichols reported the Elba Light and Water Department had worked well through moving water and power lines even though they weren't notified until the last minute.

A special meeting will be called as soon as the annual audit of the books is completed. This will be to allow all members to review the audit and to determine if the audit they don't understand.

A lengthy discussion by the board with Dr. Donald Crook and Dr. B.A. Sauer, the hospital's medical director, addressed the continuing problem of use and misuse of the emergency room. Board members pointed out the problems they face when citizens report that doctors fail to come back to the hospital at night when

PSC Comes To Town For Railroad Hearings

The Alabama Public Service Commission held a public hearing last Wednesday on a petition by Seaboard Coastline Railroad to close the depots in Elba and New Brockton. The hearing was held in the Elba courthouse with PSC members Jim Folsom Jr. and Lynn Greer present.

The hearing was conducted by Robert A. Jones, Director of Transportation for the PSC. Presenting the case for the railroad was Attorney Neil W. McArthur Jr. of Jacksonville, Florida. Attorney Mark Vaughan represented the City of Elba.

At least a dozen local citizens addressed the PSC in opposition to the move. They included Mayor Wallace Miller, Representative Jimmy Holley, Representative Vickie Coleman, Hunter Flack, Everett Kelley, Zack Story, Skip Rainier, City Clerk Jack Prescott, and Fern Cox.

Several railroad officials testified in favor of the closing of the depots and assured commission members it would in no way affect the operation of the branch line. Charles Gandy, who represents Grey Southern Paper Company, by far the largest user of the railroad in Elba, testified his firm didn't oppose the move and it had worked satisfactorily for them in other areas.

Eighty-two people testified when their heads got underway in the Elba courtroom. A number of those opposing the closing expressed fear that the next step would involve completely removing the railroad from Elba, but company officials reiterated, denied these allegations. They contended the money saved would keep the line making a profit longer and would actually make closing the line more revenue.

Representative Holley urged the railroad to reconsider their plans. He pointed out that the people at the hearing were not opposed to the railroads. "We want you to stay - is our plea."

The railroad was given 45 days to produce some additional information requested by the PSC before a ruling on the petition, therefore expected 90 days after that, or 135 days from October 28, 1981.

Property Taxes

May Be Paid

Beginning November 16, Coffee County residents may sign assessment sheets or pay property taxes, says Revenue Commissioner Roy Burdette.

Residents have until February 15 to sign or pay, without incurring a penalty.

Boat Ramp To

Be Closed

The boat-launching ramp on the Pea River at Elba will be closed for repairs on November 5, 6 and 7, and Saturday, November 5, 6 and 7.

The ramp has a severe dropoff at the lower end which causes boat launching problems during high water. The ramp will be repaired by Fisheries Section personnel under the direction of Section Chief Sam Spencer, with assistance provided by the City of Elba.

Persons have received this award locally.

Forty-one members of the local club, their wives and guests are expected to enjoy the event.

The local Rotary Club annually raises funds for the Crippled Children and Adults Rehabilitation Center in Dothan and for Camp ASCCA, located on Lake Martin.

Interest Rates To Stabilize

The Alabama legislature convened for a third special session this week with the pleasant purpose of spending a bit of extra time on the business of stabilizing interest rates through the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Commodity Credit Corporation. We will remain at 14.5 percent through January, according to Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block.

Block said the 14.5 percent rate has been in effect since April 1, when USDA announced it was instituting a floating interest rate, subject to changes in cost of the 1981-82 fiscal year. The variable interest rate on outstanding loans—which includes CCC to adjust rates in line with the market—will continue in effect, Block said.

Beginning Nov. 1, he said, CCC's policy will be changed to provide for interest rates on new loans that more accurately reflect interest costs to the corporation.

Town Clock Needs To Be Rejuvenated

It would delight our hearts to see the TOWN CLOCK put in repair.

How many oldsters remember the time the clock ran away and struck several hours late? It caused a real furor. And how many have listened to the town clock to strike when sleep came reluctantly at night, and while anticipating the strike, went to sleep? Better than sleeping pills!

TO THE COUNTY COMMISSIONERS -----

Greetings! Please hear our plea, and if the sad fact is that it cannot be fixed, then let's have a venerable Lady face so she will not look so forlorn.

Can we help, good commissioners? Call on us or help do anything short of climbing the tower.

Congressmen Deny Ads' Allegations

Congressman Bill Dickinson, from the House of Representatives, regarding "half-truths and distortions" advertised in the Peanut Marketing Association's National Salters Association about the proposed peanut program in the 1981 Agriculture Bill.

In a letter to each member of Congress, and in a large advertisement in The Washington Post, these men maintained that the proposed 1981 Peanut Program, alleging that it would keep prices "artificially high" and would cost the taxpayer $700,000,000,000 during the life of the program. They alleged that consumers would be robbed of the benefits of decreased prices which would result from elimination of the allotment and quotas systems and increased production. Other distortions such as stating that the cost of production was only $335 to $370 per ton were included.

"These large corporations were going to monopolize production, so they can maximize production and manufacturing," Dickinson said.

"The fact is that amendment sponsored by these large corporations have always been enemies of the peanut producer would be extremely costly to American consumers. The public will have the war for large corporations to gobble up the thousands of small family peanut farms. Competition would be destroyed and these corporations would control both production and manufacturing. The consumer would be the loser," Dickinson said.

"The fact is, passage of the House peanut program will cost the taxpayer more, and will not provide the consumer with an abundant supply of peanuts of the highest quality at reasonable prices. I am now working to make sure that is known about the peanut program," Dickinson concluded.

A newly formed Toastmaster's Club will meet today (Thursday), November 5, at 7 p.m. in the multi-purpose room at Enterprise State Junior College. The Elba and Red Toastmaster's Clubs will present a sample meeting. Anyone interested in bettering their public speaking skills is invited to attend.

Weekly Police Report

The following are actual excerpts from the Elba Police Department dockets from Tuesday, October 27 through Monday, November 2. All names have been omitted.

TUESDAY, OCT. 27

11:04 a.m. - Caller reported possible drunk driver on Sunset Blvd.

11:33 a.m. - Woman caller requested company at home on Old Samson Rd.

2:04 p.m. - Woman caller reported domestic disturbance in front of home on Reese Ave.

4:52 p.m. - Patrolman requested wrecker at intersection of 8th N. and 189th.

5:57 p.m. - Male caller advised top light out on relay tower at Victoria.

7:14 p.m. - An Elba man is issued a speeding citation.

BEGINNING L. I. he said, "I'm not exactly quit eating, but my stomach thinks so. Normally I am either full or thinking about how to get something to eat, but right now my theory is to slowly consume a very limited amount of food and satisfy any other hunger pangs with black coffee or water. If you go to a restaurant or grocery store; don't get a straight jacket — just give me a couple of fried chickens, a large cake or a half gallon of ice cream. You may substitute a large ham if it includes two loaves of bread and a quart of mayonnaise."

We read a letter to the editor in the Montgomery Advertiser last week from a Coffey County man who was critical of the peanut program. Not only did he not want any peanut contests among the farmers of the Wiregrass, nor those who depend on them for a living. We wonder how he would react if the Feds decided military retirement checks would never be raised after the person had retired from service. . . . that too would save a bunch of money.

The Elba Elementary School PTA had fantastic success with the Haunted House and Carnival last Friday night. Final reports indicate they received $2812 profit on the event. Add to that the pleasure the children got from the fun event and it apparently was a success.

Seniors Play
Major Role In Success

The seniors of the Marching Tiger Band play a major role in the success of the band. Each year is an example that the younger band members look up to for leadership and dedication, and it has been through their dedication that the Elba band has become one of the most respected bands in South Alabama.

Of the seniors in the band this year, some have been with the band only a couple of years, but the majority has been with the program since the past eight years. During this time they have worked under five high school and four assistant directors, and have seen many changes in friends come and go out of band. They have also known the disappointment of defeat at contests, but more than that, they have experienced the thrill of winning and seeing the people of Elba and others rise to their feet with applause.

Such turnovers in leadership, and dropouts are usually enough to cause a good band to fall, but the pride and aggressiveness these young people have has helped maintain a strong program.

On Friday October 31, the seniors lead the band in the Southland Band Classics, which was held in Enterprise. The Elba band has received straight superior ratings all year and have participated in the festival, and this year was no exception. They received a superior rating, and 3rd in class.

The band will participate in a contest in Troy Saturday, Nov. 5.

Congratulations to the senior band members and good luck, Marching Tigers!

EHS Black & Gold Review

The 1981-1982 officers of the Future Business Leaders of America are as follows: Jennifer Barnes, president; Lori Chandler, vice-president; Michelle Farris, secretary; Devon Gibbs, treasurer; Rickey Maddux, reporter; Liz Gilbert, parliamentarian; and Phyllis Bryan, devotion leader.

commendations for Top Students

Letters of commendation will be presented to Tammy Funder, who placed among the top 51,000 participants in the twenty-seventh annual National Merit Scholarship Program.

A spokesman for National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) said the program states, "To be designated a Commended Student is an outstanding attainment, deserving public recognition. The nation will benefit from the continued educational and personal development of students such as these, for they have shown exceptional promise."

We sincerely hope our

the able, young men and women being honored will receive whatever assistance is necessary for them to achieve the high goals they set for themselves.

Of some 1.2 million students who applied for Merit Scholarships by taking a qualifying test in 1980, about 36,000 were being commended this month, as they begin their final year of high school. These participants scored high, but slightly below students in their respective states who qualified for Merit Program Semifinalists.

Only the 15,000 semifinalists, who were announced in a national newspaper, receive further consideration for Merit Scholarships. In the spring of 1982, NMSC will announce the names of about 1,400 Merit Scholars who will receive awards worth $15 million for college undergraduate study.

The band will participate in a contest in Troy Saturday, Nov. 5.

Congratulations to the senior band members and good luck, Marching Tigers!

By Ricky Mularz

Usually when you lose a close game everyone is sad and the newspaper calls it a "heartbreaker" or a "tearjerker." However, after last week's triple overtime loss to Andalusia, I wasn't, and for the life of me I couldn't figure out what was going on. I was absolutely fine. True, I was disappointed we didn't win, but I was so proud of our team just couldn't feel bad about the loss. We played as good as we could for four quarters and three overtimes, and deserved to win, but just wasn't able to do it. After the game at Andalusia an said, "Your team played too good to lose," and I agreed. There were no losers Friday night, only young men who made their town proud to cheer for them.

I thought Elba would win last week because we were ready to peak and also thought Andalusia was not as good as anyone said. I was right and wrong at the same time! Elba did peak as a team, playing well on both offense and defense, but Andalusia was just as good as ever. Elba was outscored about 20-30 to a man, but took the fight to the bulldogs and nearly got after them.

On offense Elba played as safe because of the wind and the powerful Andalusia team, and seemed to be waiting for just the right moment to move in for a score. After swapping punts with the Trojans, the Tigers got off to a short start and took it in to go ahead. They never got another break, but began to move late in the game and fell short because of a fumble and a short gain on fourth down.

It looked like the Elba offense got on track late in the game, a fact that I think the players were in. After butting heads with the big Bulldogs for the entire game, our linemen had enough left to knock 'em off the ball and give the offense one last chance to win.

I still can't believe the play of our defense in the last three games. First, the Tigers got off to a slow start, but the defense suddenly grew up and began to play like champions! Against Andalusia, the Tigers allowed the Bulldogs only one drive the entire game and came up with big stands twice on fourth-down plays. Andalusia's game plan was to line up and run over us, but, after 20 minutes of play they bailed out. The defense was great at that point, but the defense this season wasn't very big, but Friday night they fought like giants and won the respect of everyone at the game. I know we didn't win, but we gave it all we had and have nothing to be sad about, because the '81 Tigers went as winners!

At first glance, a 6-4 record doesn't seem too good, and at a lot of times it isn't, but at Elba High in 1981 it took a lot of character and pride to post a winning season, and everyone involved in the program did their best. Elba has played two different seasons this year. We went 3-3 in one and 3-1 in the other. After getting shelled up at Greenville to drop to 3-3, Elba's team came home than down in the towel - all alone. They had to wait for the last second of the game to miss a couple of games with an injury in midseason, but when the team needed him, he came back despite being hurt, and led his teammates to a winning season. A coach told me over the weekend "if Joseph Godwin isn't an All-American, there isn't one in Alabama!" I don't know about that, but he must be one heck of a player.

There were a few surprises in area games last week and one across the state, but most of the wins worth mentioning:

Opp traveled up to Elmore County to battle Eclectic and came back strong from a 35-14 whipping. The Bobcats were looking ahead, they just ran a buzzsaw.

Luverne, to the surprise of no one, rolled over Florala and clinched the Area 3 crown. Coach Daniel's crew could be a force to be reckoned with.

*Ozark claimed its fifth win of the season by upsetting Dothan 20-14. Coosa Valley's team will post a winning season by beating Dale Co. in its final game.

*And, Akron (the undefeated Class A champion of last season) remained unbeaten by dumping Greensboro 25-20. Greensboro was 9-0 and had already claimed their area crown in Class 3A, but couldn't handle the TA champs.

Shiver and Billy W. Williamson. They deserve the credit for the coverage of Brantley, Zion Chapel, New Brockton and Kimball and I think every one a great job!

They are a great team in words, and I agree that a picture adds a lot to any story. However, in a daily paper there was a picture of Elba that was billed as an action shot in the Andalusia-Elba game. It was Elba playing, but it wasn't made Friday night! Come on folks, don't fib on cutlines.

Ye ole Polish Prognosticator hit on 36 of 42 picks last week and has had quite a season. He didn't bother to use the crystal ball this week, so no promises!

Zion Chapel vs. Wicksburg

The Rebels have had a lousy season, while Wicksburg is still fighting for a shot at the playoffs. The Panthers will have fire in their eyes and light up the Rebs!

Opp vs. Andalusia

Andalusia got beat up a little last week in a win over Elba, while Opp simply got beat. This one will pit Opp's speed against Andalusia's muscle, and I think the Bulldogs will pull it out.

Coach Wood Praises Tigers For Effort In Loss To Andalusia

Despite last week's Monday afternoon phone disappointing loss to Andalusia in three overtimes, Elba's Coach Mack Wood had nothing but words of praise for his team in a did any more or gave any more effort in the last four games than this one. They gave it everything they had and did just what we asked plus a lot more! I have never been any prouder of a team, not even the state championship squad at Brewton. The kids played outstanding and fought too hard to lose. When two teams battle to a tie through an entire game and two overtimes, there can be no loser. In my mind we are winners..."

"Once we get in overtime, it would have taken lots of luck to win. We all thought Mike Amison's upper body was over the line, but the referees didn't think so, and that's just part of the game. On offense, we played it close to the west most of the game, and tried to be patient. Andalusia had one of the best defenses we faced.

"It's the same old story - if we'd done one or two things better, we could have won. Coming into size of the two clubs, we did our best to score. On defense, I think everybody played hard and consistent. We played our blocks better than we did more, and that's what we were doing. Everybody played harder and we got some big plays when we needed to. We played great in the second half. I could have asked for more of the way we wound up; if I had to do it over, I don't guess I'd change a thing."

Wood said, "I feel like we lost - time just ran out. I really feel it should have gone into four overtimes, but that's neither here nor there."

"We started the season," said Wood, "if we could have a winning season, but I wasn't sure. We played some good games, but lost because the boys lost their confidence against Troy and found out if we played well, we could win against anybody. I think it was a good season. I think the defense was good and the whole team got better. I was proud of the way we wound up; if I had to do it over, I don't guess I'd change a thing."

GAMECOCKS WIN CROWN

BY GREG BRUNSON

Gamecock standout Joseph Godwin (77) talks with Coaches Leavy Boutwell and Bobby Kinsaul.

The New Brockton Gamecocks combined a big play defense to claim a convincing 36-0 win over the Kinston Bulldogs this past Friday night in New Brockton.

The Bulldogs took the opening kickoff and managed only one first down before being forced to punt. Anthony Maddox made a beautiful 35-yard run on New Brockton's first play, but the Gamecocks forced a turnover on the second play, and Michael Bowers recovered for the Bulldogs.

The Bulldogs took the ball on their second play from scrimmage as they left the ball on the ground and Clark Whittaker grabbed it for the Bulldogs. It only took the Gamecocks four plays to drive 26 yards for the touchdown, with Joseph Burrows carrying the last 12 yards. Bowers kicked the point after with 5:09 remaining in the first quarter, making the score 7-0.

Willie Lee Terry ran back a Kinston punt to give New Brockton excellent field position on the Bulldogs' 26-yard line. Tim Wilson made this scoring chance as he intercepted an Anthony Maddox pass in the endzone.

Next time up, Kinston moved the ball on their next possession, and an exchange of punts left the Bulldogs' 26-yard line. Darren Smith passed 13 yards to Michael Bowers on first down, and it appeared the Bulldogs were ready to make a drive, but the Gamecocks forced a turnover on the second play, and Michael Bowers recovered for the Bulldogs.
